London, November 9.
On Saturday arrived the Mail from Holland of Friday October 30.

Hague, November 10.

LETTERS from Utrecht tell us, that of late since the Advices from the Upper-Rhine as well as those from Catalonia have deceived the Hopes of some and lessened the Apprehensions of others, the Plenipotentiaries of Spain have shewn themselves more tractable than before, and now say they wait only for the Return of the Courier from Madrid to conclude the Peace between his Catholick Majesty and this State. We are assured, that the King of France, at the Desire of the States-General, has written in earnest Terms to the King his Grandson, to hasten the Conclusion of the foresaid Treaty, and perform what his most Christian Majesty promised them in the Treaty of the Peace he has made with them, by Virtue of the full Power which he (the King of Spain) had given him: So that 'tis believed the Court of Madrid will at length desist from the Guarantee, which they have hitherto demanded of the States, of the Sovereignty to be erected for the Prince of Ursini. 'Tis true, M. de Chateaufort, Ambassador of France, has lately insinuated to the States, that the King his Master might have exerted more effectual Offices some time ago for procuring the Conclusion of the forementioned Peace, had not their High Mightinesses so long retarded the sending their Ambassadors to his Court: But some here are apt to imagine, that the Sword of the Governour of Fribourg may have cut the Pen for the speedier signing of that Treaty.

Upon Great Britain's insisting anew that the States withdraw their Troops out of Ostend without Delay, to make Room for the Walloon Troops which are designed to garrison that Place, the States have answered by Letter (as we are informed) that they will be ready to do it as soon as ever the Harbour of Dunkirk is filled up and the Fortifications of that Place are raised, and the Castle of Ghent is put into their Hands conformably to the Barrier-Treaty.

Letters from Berlin of the 4th of November relate, that Brigadier Briton Envoy of England, having on the 31st of last Month delivered a Letter from the Queen his Mistress to the King of Prussia, his Majesty declared the same Day to the Ministers of the Czar and of the King of Poland, that having actually engaged to re-establish the Tranquillity of the North, he could not delay ordering his Troops to march to the Assistance of the Duke of Holstein, to oblige the King of Denmark to raise the Blockade of Tominga, and to evacuate Holstein, thereby to lay a Foundation for Negotiation.

Deputies from the States of Brabant and Flanders are newly arrived here, with Complaints that the Governour of Newport has seized on the Sluices, so that the said States cannot make use of them, unless they pay a considerable Sum of Money which is demanded of them. The States-General are not a little embarrassed by the Opposition made to their Nomination of a Person to the Bishoprick of Ypres, the Pope having nominated another Person, pretending that the Sovereign of that Country had never the Right of Nomination without his Concurrence: The Pontiff has nominated to that Bishoprick the Count de Boslu Provost of the Cathedral of Ghent, (in the Stead of M. Keuper Canon of Bruges named by the States;) and their High Mightinesses are not without Apprehension that the Court of Great-Britain may happen to declare for the former, because they (the States-General) did not make their Nomination in Conjunction with the said Court, which claims the Right of Co-administration in the new-conquered Places, to which Claim the States have not yet yielded.

Upon the Representations and repeated Instances of the Emperour's Minister, the States have demanded again of the French Ambassador a Prolongation of the Term fixed by his Court for the Evacuation of Trarbach; but 'tis doubted whether it be in his Power to grant it without new Orders.

The Advices from the Upper-Rhine intirely destroy the false Report we had here, founded on a Letter that came from France, concerning Fribourg; those Advices importing that the Town held out the 3d Instant, and that the Governour had determined and had prepared every thing to stand a general Assault, which the Marshal de Villars proposed to make the 4th with the Flower of his Troops.

Letters of the 3d from the Camp at Muhlberg relate, that a Body of 13000 Men, most of them Walloons, had repassed the Rhine some Days before, giving out they were ordered to march to Catalonia; but that 'twas very much apprehended that Body of Forces may be designed for Piemont.

The States of the four associated Circles, assembled at Heilbron, have separated, after having determined to refer themselves to the Diet of the Empire, for settling the Contributions towards the raising of five Millions of Crowns extraordinary for the continuing of the War. The Body of the Nobility of Franconia and Swabia have granted to his Imperial Majesty, an Augmentation of one third Part of the Contingent they furnish already: But at the same time they have reserved to themselves the being exempted from that Augmentation, in case Peace be made with France before the Payment of that Money become due, or in case they should happen to have extraordinary Contributions imposed on them by the French.
